

Iakovina Kindylidi

International Adviser Information, Communication & Technology

(+351) 21 311 3400

IMK@vda.pt

Iakovina Kindylidi joined VdA in 2019. She is International Adviser at the Information, Communication & Technology practice area. She works with emerging technologies, namely AI, distributed ledgers / blockchain, IoT, FinTech, and platforms.

She also provides advice on matters relating to IT, IT intellectual property, trade secrets, and e-commerce.

Academic background

LL.B degree, Democritus University of Thrace.

LL.M in Commercial Law, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens.

LL.M in International Business Law, Tilburg University.

Summer School by Dirpolis Institute of the Sant'Anna School of Advanced Studies of Pisa on "The Regulation of Robotics & AI in Europe: Legal, Ethical and Economic Implications".

Teaching chairs

Guest lecturer at NOVA University Faculty of Law in the Master in Law & Technology.

Other professional background

Tilburg University, TILT Clinic "Intellectual Property for Crossyn", research intern.

Pistiolis & Triantafyllos & Associates Law Firm, trainee lawyer.

Pistiolis & Triantafyllos & Associates Law Firm, trainee lawyer.

Published works

- Master Thesis in LL. M in International Business Law: Smart Companies: Company and Board Members Liability in the Age of AI, (August 2018).
- Article on ehvLINC's blog on Medium.com: Smart Companies: Machines in the Boardroom (March 2018).
- Master Thesis in LL. M in Commercial Law: Insolvency of Corporate Groups: "The Paradigm of Cross - Border Insolvency - 2000/1346 & 2015/848 Regulations (January 2017).

Member of

Admitted to the Athens Bar Association.

Languages

Greek, English, German, Portuguese, Italian, Spanish.