

Webinar title: The Law and Governance of Mining and Minerals: A Global Perspective. A book

by Ana Elizabeth Bastida

Date: Thursday 10th December 2020 at 13:00-14:00 UK time

This webinar proposes an academic-practitioners' conversation on occasion of the launch of the book The Law and Governance of Mining and Minerals: A Global Perspective written by Dr Ana Elizabeth Bastida and published by Hart Publishing, Oxford, as part of its Global Energy Law & Policy series. The book calls for adopting a global perspective to the study of the law and governance of mining and minerals, to capture the growing complexity of the normative phenomena and the diversity of its sources. It argues that a global perspective entails, firstly, understanding the breadth and the interdependence of the various levels of normative orderings of social relations concerning mining and minerals, and secondly, engaging with sustainable development and sustainability as an objective of the global community and as a 'conceptual matrix' for integrating environmental sustainability and social and economic equity into decisions about economic projects at all levels.
